A stylized illustration featuring a blue film strip that winds through the scene. On the left, a man in a white suit and red tie holds the strip. In the center, a woman with white hair and an orange top reaches out towards the strip. Below them, a man in a blue shirt and white pants is shown in a dynamic, running-like pose. In the foreground, a film camera is visible, with a small child sitting next to it. The background consists of radiating lines in shades of yellow and blue, creating a sense of movement and energy.
